

About the Journal

Journal of Security & Strategic Affairs (JSSA) first issued in 2023, it is a double-blind peer-reviewed academic journal, published by Algeria Shield for Comprehensive Security and Strategic Studies Laboratory -Ali Lounici -Blida2 University.

JSSA is a biannual multidisciplinary journal, non-commercial open access publishing (in June and December), it aims to publish manuscripts in the field of international relations and security studies in particular, in addition to all research issued from other scientific branches - whether from the humanities and social sciences or the natural and technical sciences - that intersect with topics with a security and strategic perspective, in order to expand the circle of scientific debate about Various security and strategic affairs to achieve the public benefit.

Accordingly, the journal Includes manuscripts which discuss a wide range of thematic of concern to the contemporary world, such as:

- Geopolitics, Security & Strategy, International Relations.
- Intelligence & Defense, Terrorism & Cyber security.
- Military Affairs.
- Peace and Conflicts resolution.
- Environmental, Energy, Food & Health security.
- Humanitarian, Societal, Economic Security...etc.

JSSA aims to be a platform for scholars and researchers from various disciplines to contribute to the theoretical and practical understanding of Security & Strategic studies. The journal welcomes manuscripts that explore topics such as conflict resolution, diplomacy, terrorism, arms control, and regional security dynamics. Through rigorous research and analysis, JSSA seeks to foster informed debates and generate innovative ideas that can contribute to the development of effective policies and strategies in the field of international security. By publishing diverse and comprehensive research, the journal aims to serve as a valuable resource for academics, policymakers, and practitioners alike.

JSSA doesn't focus on a specific area, but rather on global comprehensive security. It is open to interdisciplinary, cross-thematic, and trans-regional works discussing international aspects of security and strategy. In addition, JSSA also welcomes relevant articles from various fields of study. The journal recognizes the importance of interdisciplinary research and encourages submissions that explore different perspectives on security and strategy. However, it is important to note that all articles must meet the usual research standards to ensure the quality and integrity of the publication.

JSSA is able to gain a comprehensive understanding of complex security and strategic issues. This allows for a more nuanced analysis and the development of innovative solutions that address the multiple dimensions of security. It seeks to foster collaboration and dialogue among scholars from various disciplines to deepen our understanding of the challenges facing the global community.

JSSA is intended to contribute to developing academic research on global security and strategic affairs authored by researchers from around the world on security & strategic issues.

JSSA puts great emphasis on the quality and fairness of the peer-review process. The journal is dedicated to ensuring that all submitted manuscripts undergo a rigorous evaluation by international experts, as well as members of the editorial committee from various countries and international scientific and research institutions. This commitment to a thorough review process ensures that only high-quality research is published. Additionally, JSSA believes in transparency and open communication with authors, this includes providing timely feedback and guidance throughout the publication process.

The editors warmly welcome manuscripts that contribute to collective understanding of global efforts to achieve peace and security. The journal particularly interested in articles that explore contemporary security issues and theoretical dimensions that have lasting value.

JSSA encourage the submission of articles that effectively blend theoretical approaches with applied data to study modern security and strategic affairs. Such contributions are instrumental in informing the development of prevention and defense policy plans.

The reviewers carefully evaluate the manuscripts for their relevance, originality, methodology, and contribution to the field. They also provide constructive feedback and suggestions for improvement to the authors.

Editors play a crucial role in ensuring that the review process is fair and unbiased, as they make the final decision based on the reviewers' recommendations. This rigorous review process helps maintain the quality and integrity of the published papers.

Plagiarism Policy:

The editorial team regularly checks submissions for instances of plagiarism. Plagiarism involves submitting work in a research papers as if it were the submitters own work when, in fact, it is not. Most commonly plagiarism exists when:

- The paper submitted was done, in whole or in part, by an individual other than the one presenting the work.
- Parts of the work are taken from another source without reference to the original author, and/or the whole work is copied from another source.
- It is recognized that scholarly work often involves reference to the ideas, data and conclusions of other scholars, intellectual honesty requires that such references be explicitly and clearly noted.
- All authors and co-authors that submit research papers to the JSSA are, by that act, asserting that the piece of written work is original and it is the result of their own independent scholarly work, free of all kind of fallacies, fraud, plagiarism, and everything related to publication Malpractice Statement.
- Proper acknowledgment of the work of others must always be given. Authors should cite publications that have been influential in determining the nature of the reported work. It is (intellectual property rights).

Privacy Statement:

The names and email addresses entered in this journal site will be used exclusively for the stated purposes of this journal and will not be made available for any other purpose or to any other party.

The data collected from registered and non-registered users of this journal falls within the scope of the standard functioning of peer-reviewed journals.

It includes information that makes communication possible for the editorial process; it is used to inform readers about the authorship and editing of content; it enables collecting aggregated data on readership behaviors, as well as scholarly communication.

Publication method and deadlines:

- The journal is biannual and publishes online. The first issue is in June and the second is in December of each year.
- The publication deadline can sometimes be exceeded for a longer period after the call for papers has been published, by taking into account the number of contributions received and the time required examining them by reviewers.
- Once accepted, manuscripts will be published online with free access (open access) on the journal platform.

Publication Ethics Statement

1. DUTIES OF EDITORS:

- The ethic statements of the Security & Strategic Affairs Journal, concerning the duties of the editors and Reviewers, are founded on Committee on Publication Ethics on the highest quality Practice Guidelines for editorial and reviewers team.
- Editors team, work enthusiastically to improve the quality of the journal, they are responsible for selecting which submitted articles should be published, and they are guided by the policies of the Journal's ethics and statement and policy constrained by the laws in force.
- Editors evaluate manuscripts for their content objectively, regardless of the ethnic or national affiliations, political orientation of the authors, or others. Rather, their responsibility is to verify the accuracy of the information and data provided, which it must be free from all forms of fallacy, fraud, plagiarism and everything related to publishing a statement of malpractice.
- The Journal is peer reviewing is double blind, therefore the editors are always committed to maintaining confidentiality, Privacy must be preserved and no information of the submitted manuscript must be disclosed to anyone other than the author and reviewers, editorial consultants and publisher.
- The author(s) acknowledge copyright of the paper in all forms (whether now known or hereafter developed), and in all languages for the full term of copyright, thereof, this assignment includes the rights to distribute, and publish the Work in both print and electronic formats. exclusively to the Journal Security & Strategic Affairs.
- The author acknowledges that any opinions expressed in the manuscript are their own and do not reflect the views of the Journal. Furthermore, the author understands that publication in the Journal does not guarantee any specific results or outcomes. It is the responsibility of the author to ensure the accuracy and integrity of the information presented in the manuscript.
- The Journal does not bear any responsibility for the content and future results ensuing from submitted manuscripts.

2. DUTIES OF REVIEWERS:

- Reviewers have to avoid all forms of subjectivity when reviewing manuscripts, as this violates publishing ethics. Personal criticism is inappropriate, thus, Reviewers should express their views clearly with supporting scientific arguments.
- Peer review help the editor in making editorial decisions and through the editorial communications with the authors may also assist the author in improving the research paper.
- The reviewer is required to bring to the attention of the editor any substantial similarity or overlap between the manuscript under review and any previously published paper.
- Information or privileged ideas obtained through peer review must remain confidential and may not be used for personal gain.
- For enhancing Scientific Integrity of the journal and its credibility, reviewers are obligated to identify and report relevant works or data that are not accompanied by a citation by the authors.
- Selected reviewers are obligated to notify the editor in the event that they are not qualified to review papers published in manuscript or know that immediate review will be impossible and excuse himself from the review process.

3. DUTIES OF AUTHORS

- Authors should not publish the same, identical, or substantially similar research papers in more than one journal.
- Authors of original papers should provide an accurate description of the work performed as well as an objective discussion of its significance. Articles should contain sufficient detail and references to allow others to replicate the work. Intentionally inaccurate or fraudulent statements constitute an act contrary to scientific integrity, unethical and unacceptable behavior.
- Authors must provide appropriate citation to the work of others, such as publications that have been influential in determining the nature of the work reported.
- Authors must ensure that they have submitted entirely original work and, if authors use the work and/or words of others, that they have been appropriately cited or quoted.
- All those who have made significant contributions should be listed as co-authors. Where there are others who have participated in some substantive aspect of the research project, they should be acknowledged or included as contributors.
- The corresponding author must ensure that all co-authors are listed on the article, and that all co-authors have viewed and approved the final version of the article and agreed to submit it to the journal for publication.
- When an author discovers errors or inaccuracies in his or her research paper, it is the author's duty to immediately notify the journal editor or publisher and cooperate with the editor to retract or modify the paper.
- To ensure the integrity of academic research and prevent duplication, it is essential for authors to refrain from publishing the same, identical, or substantially similar research papers in multiple journals. This practice avoids any potential conflicts of interest, maintains the journal credibility, and upholds scientific standards of originality and novelty.
- By adhering to this principle, researchers foster a fair and transparent environment in which new knowledge can be shared and validated.
- The author bears full responsibility for the content and future results ensuing from his submitted manuscript.

Copyright Statement:

The author(s) acknowledge copyright of the paper in all forms (whether now known or hereafter developed), and in all languages for the full term of copyright, thereof, this assignment includes the rights to distribute, and publish the Work in both print and electronic formats, exclusively to the Journal Security & Strategic Affairs.

Accreditation year: 2023

ISSN: 2992-0507

EISSN:

Periodicity: Biannual

Contact:

Email: jcssa.2023@gmail.com

Phone: 213250003

Ali Lounici – Blida 2 University – ALGERIA

Algeria Shield for Comprehensive Security and Strategic Studies Laboratory

