1. The expertise of the article:

Step 1:

- The review committee goes into the pre-evaluation phase to decide whether the article is suitable for evaluation.
- The article is appraised by two reviewers according to the principle of blind submission.

step 2:

- In case the article is accepted for evaluation (after being formatted according to the journal's template and publication criteria), it will be sent to two reviewers.

- The two reviewers are responsible for judging the article based on the evaluation form available on the ASJP platform
- After evaluation and if the two experts' opinions are contradictory, a third expert will be asked to give his opinion which will be considered as decisive in determining whether to accept, refuse, or request recasting of the article.

2. Preparation of the article

To accelerate the process of publishing articles in the journal, we invite authors to use the Journal Template. This last can be downloaded from the "Instructions for Authors" section.

The author of the article is requested to visit the link given below to download the Template (or stylesheet):

<https://www.asjp.cerist.dz/en/PresentationRevue/300>

3. Consult the guide for authors

By clicking on the "Author Guide" icon, a zip file will be downloaded, explaining to authors how to submit their articles. The guide in question also includes the journal's publication charter and a letter of commitment that the authors must sign.

4. Notification of article submission

If the article submission process is successful, a message will appear on the screen indicating this. The author receives notification of the article's submission on his personal email and a notification to the second author confirming his participation in the article in case there is a second author.

5. Notification of rejection of the article

If the article does not adhere to the journal's template (style sheet) of the publication guideline, the author will be informed that the article is rejected. In addition, he will be invited to follow the norms and criteria explained in the review's template for a potential reevaluation.

Monitoring of the article's evaluation on the platform

The author can log in to his account on the platform and track the evaluation process of his article by clicking on the 'Articles' icon, and then by clicking on the 'Sent Articles' icon. A table will appear providing detailed information on the submitted article (title, sending date, journal name, and evaluation details).

The article will go through several stages:

Step 1: Accept or reject expertise;

Step 2: An article awaiting evaluation;

Step 3: Assign the article to the reviewers;

Step 4: Reviewers' decision to accept or reject the article or to request changes.

6. About plagiarism

Plagiarism, in all its forms, constitutes unethical behavior. No argument can justify this behavior. Any other article by the plagiarist author will not be accepted by the Didactiques journal. In addition, it can be followed up, because the author has already signed the commitment certifying the originality of the submitted article.
